Health Literacy is to know and successfully manage the determinants of health: proper nutrition, physical activity, tobacco-free living, mental health, personal safety and injury control—regardless of one's level of education or poverty.

Historically NECON, the New England Governors' Conference, and Region I, US Department of Health & Human Services have convened annual region-wide forums of policy-makers and legislators to deliberate and submit recommendations for the improvement of the health status of the region.

We invite you to attend and be an active participant in this process.
